

Overview

Rely on a Technology practice which has distinguished itself with its integrated problem solving approach and well-honed knowledge of technology based on extensive experience resolving the legal and regulatory issues you face incorporating technology to achieve your businesses goals and create greater efficiency in your workplace.

No matter where you are in the process, depend on a team which provides a wide and varied array of services—from documentation involving complex institution specific information systems and advice on the establishment of data centers and backup sites to the handling of agreements relating to disaster recovery, software licensing, hardware procurement, master licenses, re-seller arrangements and systems integration. Recent projects include medical prescription systems and banking and insurance systems, and advising on a global top-level domain name theft case.

Whether you represent regulators, statutory bodies, healthcare providers and hospitals, major local and foreign educational institutes, Singapore listed companies, foreign (including US and French) multinationals, premier computer reservation systems providers, software development and licensing companies, major financial services firms or leading airlines, benefit from our capabilities in:

- Acquisition of large scale systems
- Computer crimes
- Cybersquatting
- Data privacy
- E-commerce
- Internet related issues
