

Overview

By partnering with one of the oldest and largest firms in Singapore, you can trust our broad and highly skilled Tax practice to help you navigate all domestic and international tax issues. We work to understand your background, your business and goals to tailor our tax service to suit your specific commercial needs.

From finance and real estate to technology, manufacturing and shipping, our experienced team regularly provides tax advisory services to a wide range of businesses. We provide legal counsel and consulting services on transactional matters, both inbound and outbound investments, and structuring work. This includes advising on corporate and individual income tax, international tax planning, transfer pricing, goods and services tax (GST) and stamp duties. As part of a global organization with tax practitioners spread over more than 30 cities in the world, we are well-equipped to advise on complex, multi-jurisdictional cross-border issues.

In addition, the Tax team also focuses on private client matters, advising high net-worth individuals and families, business owners, trust companies and private banks in areas such as trusts, estates, wealth planning, family and business succession, and probate. As part of their holistic suite of services, the team also advises on related issues including trustee obligations, money laundering, secrecy, tax transparency, and immigration.
